HENLEY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

This concert, compèred by Anjali Singh, will mark the HSO's farewell to Ian Brown, our much-loved Music Director of the last 27 years, who has decided to call it a day. Despite the sadness of the occasion, we aim to make it a lively and uplifting celebration of Ian's distinguished career with a sparkling selection of classical dance music, from the folksy gypsy rhythms of Romania to the gaiety of 19th century Paris. This concert is suitable for all the young at heart!

From its first concert in a borrowed marquee in Shiplake, and now in its 52nd season, HSO has gone from strength to strength, attracting some 50 players from across the Thames Valley. Under the guidance of Ian Brown, the orchestra promotes an annual season of four concerts, featuring internationally acclaimed artists. The aim is to provide high-quality music-making at affordable prices and to give local musicians an opportunity to perform the great classical orchestral repertoire to a high standard.

Christ Church is situated in central Henley on Reading Road (A4155) RG9 1AG, close to the junction with Station Road. Parking is available in Station Car Park or Grey's Road and there is disabled parking to the rear of the Church.
